Allium 'Summer Beauty'

A beautiful Allium variety with strong upright foliage, showcasing vibrant green color and thicker leaves. Flowers form light pink globes on tall stalks that seem to hover just above the foliage. Flowers attract butterflies, bees, and birds. This plant keeps its foliage well into the winter months, eventually turning yellow-green to yellow in the coldest weather. Foliage may remain green in some locations or in mild winters. Foliage creates a visually noticeable vertical accent, adding some height to an extensive roof planting while increasing the potential for biodiversity. Sold as bare root bulbs.
